

The STEADY | Live Unwavering Through New Seasons Series

FREEBIE

I long to live a Steady life. To have a steadfast spirit and peaceful heart no matter what New Seasons may bring. But sometimes it gets tough to be steady. From our heart to yours, we pray this encourages you when it gets tough. Pick a scripture, receive an encouragement straight from us & end with a prayer!

Xoxo, Lanissa Spoon
& the Becoming Ministries Team

1 John 4:10
I Am Always Loved

You are loved even when you mess up. God's love isn't based on you, so it's always available to you. Don't beat yourself up, draw close and soak up His love for you.

Lord, I am imperfect. But your grace covers me fully when I feel not enough. You never stop loving me, and at the end of the day- my goal isn't to be perfect, it's to love you.

I love you Lord. Amen

1 Peter 5:7
Casting My Anxiety

Ever feel overwhelmed?! Just too many things going on? You can find rest even in the crazy. But not if you hold it all in. His yoke is easy and burden light- but he wants you surrender before you can receive. Cast it on him today.

Lord, I cast all of my cares on you because I know that you care for me. The worries, the busyness, all of it is worth casting. At the end of today, I just want you. Come to me Lord as I draw near.

John 15:5
I Will Abide

When you feel unsteady, the best place to go is to be alone with Him. No amount of effort will mend our hearts and minds if we neglect our spirits. I've been there. Get alone, speak out what you're feeling and worship Him. Trust me.

Lord, remind me of your unfailing love for me. Remind me that you alone give me life. Birth in me a fire to draw near to you often, I need you God! Amen.

Joshua 1:9
I Can Be Brave

Be brave in this New Season- don't give up. Be brave and draw close more often. Be brave and follow His leading. Be brave and get uncomfortable. Steadiness doesn't mean a comfort zone. God is safety, so trust where He is leading you- and go there!

Lord, I want to be brave. I don't want to miss out on what you want to do in me because I'm too afraid, too comfortable or too lazy. Help me to be brave, whatever that looks like in this season. Be my courage. Amen

James 5:11
Being Steady Really Matters

Steadfastness allows us to look at our New Season from a different point of view. Looking at your season with peace in your heart and sureness in your bones. God is good and nothing surprises Him. Even if your step is small, take a step toward being steady. Get close, tell a friend how you're doing, be honest and don't run.

Lord, you created me to live Steady. You lived steady here on earth because you knew the truth about God and you're place in Him. I want to know deeply and fiercely the importance on being steady, help me to take the steps to draw near to you! Amen.